

I am a proud American. As a proud American, I believe that it is unAmerican to dishonor any American about what they feel is the truth and what is humane. We all know that WAR is horrendous. It is not kind. If any of our troops are acting outside of their duty, that is a slap in the face of Americans worldwide! No, I do not believe that John Kerry or any serviceman or servicewoman should be blasted for telling the truth or for honoring America by telling of events that are unAmerican like! Republican supporters should feel slammed for this unAmerican action!
